FELLOWSHIP PLEDGE

RECOGNIZING that the American College of Surgeons seeks to develop, exemplify and enforce the highest traditions of our calling, I hereby pledge myself, as a condition of Fellowship in the College, to live in strict accordance with all its principles, declarations and regulations. ❀ ❀ In particular I pledge myself to pursue the practice of surgery with thorough self-restraint and to place the welfare of my patients above all else; to advance constantly in knowledge by the study of surgical literature, the instruction of eminent teachers, interchange of opinion among associates, and attendance on the important societies and clinics; to regard scrupulously the interests of my professional brothers and seek their counsel when in doubt of my own judgment; to render willing help to my colleagues and to give freely my services to the needy. ❀ ❀ Moreover, I pledge myself, so far as I am able, to avoid the sins of selfishness; to shun unwarranted publicity, dishonest money-seeking and commercialism as disgraceful to our profession; to refuse utterly all secret money trades with consultants and practitioners; to teach the patient his financial duty to the physician and to urge the practitioner to obtain his reward from the patient openly; to make my fees commensurate with the service rendered and with the patient's rights; and to avoid discrediting my associates by taking unwarranted compensation. ❀ ❀ Finally, I pledge myself to co-operate in advancing and extending, by every lawful means within my power, the influence of the American College of Surgeons.

GENERAL SURVEY

CLOSELY related to the advance made by the medical profession during the last decade is a movement initiated by the surgeons of this continent which finds its expression in the American College of Surgeons. This College is not a teaching institution. It is a society, or a college in the original sense, whose "reason for existence lies in its disinterested and unselfish efforts to elevate the standards of the profession, moral as well as intellectual, to foster research, and to educate the public up to the idea that there is a difference between the honest, conscientious, well-trained surgeon and the purely commercial operator."* It aims to include within its Fellowship those surgeons who are competent in the science and technique of surgery, and who have in them that moral timber which characterizes a fine conception of public service.

The College developed directly out of a consciousness within the Clinical Congress of Surgeons, first, that such an organization would serve to inspire genuine advance, not only on the human or moral side of the practice of surgery, but also on the side of the art and technique; and, second, that it would serve as a safe-guard to the public in the matter of honest and competent practice of surgery. In the minds of these men the motive was to foster high professional ideals in medicine and to instruct the public as to what these ideals mean. This motive in November, 1912, found its first constructive expression. The Congress, at that time, appointed a committee to consider the advisability of organizing the College and it further empowered this committee to proceed with the organization if, after a thorough survey, such a step were deemed wise. The personnel of the committee was Edward Martin of Philadelphia, Emmet Rixford of San Francisco, John B. Murphy of Chicago, Rudolph Matas of New Orleans, Albert J. Ochsner of Chicago, Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., Frederic J. Cotton of Boston, George Emerson Brewer of New York, J. M. T. Finney of Baltimore, W. W. Chipman of Montreal, George W. Crile of Cleveland, and Franklin H. Martin of Chicago.

* President's address by Dr. J. M. T. Finney, November 13, 1913.

Without delay, the committee thus appointed took up its task with great earnestness. It sought the advice and guidance of the surgeons of this continent who stood out preëminently as leaders in each of the divisions of surgery. Especially did it seek counsel of the professors of surgery among the stronger medical schools. In March, 1913, so abundantly was the committee assured of the approval and support of these men that it issued a call for a meeting of the organization to be held in Washington on May 5, 1913. About five hundred surgeons were invited to this meeting and at the appointed time most of those invited were present. The purposes of the proposed College, as stated in the call, were as follows,—

1. It should formulate a minimum standard of requirements which should be possessed by any authorized graduate in medicine who is allowed to perform, independently, surgical operations in general surgery or any of its specialties.

2. It should consider the desirability of listing the names of those men who desire to practice surgery and who come under the authorized requirements.

3. It should seek the means of legalizing under national, colonial, state or provincial laws, a distinct degree supplementing the medical degree, which shall be conferred upon physicians possessing the requirements recognized by this law as necessary to be possessed by operating surgeons.

4. It should seek coöperation with the medical schools of the continent which have the right to confer the degree of M.D. under the present recognized standards, and urge these colleges to confer a supplementary degree on those of its graduates who have, in addition to their medical course, fulfilled the necessary apprenticeship in surgical hospitals, operative laboratories, and actual operative surgery.

5. It should authorize and popularize the use of this title by men upon whom it is conferred, and its use should especially be urged in all directories of physicians in order that the laity, as well as medical men, may distinguish between the men who have been authorized to practice surgery and those who have not.

At this meeting in Washington the College was legally organized. By-laws, rules, and regulations were adopted after due consideration, and the Board of Governors, the Board of Regents, and the officers of the College were elected. But, more than this, by bonds which reached the deepest emotions of these surgeons, they pledged their active support. The College became to them a "vision" for the full payment of the surgeon's debt to his profession.

The details of organization, however, which still remained to be perfected, were quite beyond the conception of all except the few who had become intimately associated with the growth of the plan. These details cannot here be related. In the months which followed, the General Secretary of the College, Dr. Franklin H. Martin, received about five thousand applications for Fellowship.

In order that action might be taken upon these applications with the least unnecessary delay, the Regents promptly authorized the appointment of Committees on Credentials. These committees consist of the Central Committee which reports directly to the Regents, and of State and Provincial Committees which report to the Central Committee.

The Central Committee, consisting of five Fellows of the College, holds its meetings about once each week at the offices of the College. It reviews the data and correspondence on file in connection with each candidate.

The State and Provincial Committees, each consisting of from five to seven Fellows, are appointed in nearly every state in the Union and in four divisions of Canada. These committees also review the data concerning each candidate and report their recommendations to the Central Committee.

In appointing each of these committees the Regents have asked that no recommendations for Fellowship be made if there were lack of information or doubt as to a candidate's qualifications. These necessary precautions have caused delay of final action upon many cases which the Regents and officers of the College regret.

Details as to the number of Fellows admitted under this routine at each of the four Convocations are here given later. Also the data asked for on the formal application for Fellowship are given together with a tentative plan of admission of candidates whose applications were filed after November 1, 1914.

THE FINANCIAL STATUS

In order to provide means for the organization of the College an initial Fellowship Fee of fifty dollars from each Fellow was voted at the first meeting of the College. This sum was payable, twenty-five dollars on admission, and five dollars annually thereafter for five years. Realizing that the income to be derived in this way was but temporary, and desiring to place the College on a safe, independent, and financially adequate basis, the Fellows in June, 1914, voted to raise an Endowment for the College of one million dollars. This plan provided that the Endowment should be invested in perpetuity, the income only to be used for the constructive work of the College. It provided, further, that each Fellow be asked for a subscription of five hundred dollars. It was understood that all subscriptions should be contingent on the raising of five hundred thousand dollars by December 1, 1914, the first payment on the subscription to be made January 1, 1915.

Subscriptions to the amount of $113,000 were pledged at the first meeting and it was the intention to push the plan among those Fellows who were absent from that meeting, after the summer vacations. Because of the war, however, the Regents decided to ask those who had made subscriptions to give their consent to extend the time for obtaining the subscription one year, or until December 1, 1915, and the beginning for the payment of the subscription to January 1, 1916. This extension has been agreed to.

The subscription plan is a promise to pay in the form of a note-pledge, with a discretionary provision to pay in installments, the entire amount at one time, or to have the entire amount stand in the form of a promissory note, interest to be paid on all balances at the rate of five per cent per annum, the exact form of card being,—

In case of death all unpaid balances are cancelled.

ENDOWMENT FUND

I hereby subscribe Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars to the Endowment Fund of the American College of Surgeons, the amount to be paid as follows:

Jan. 1916	$	Jan. 1918	$	Jan. 1920	$
Jan. 1917	$	Jan. 1919	$

I further agree to pay interest on the balances due on this pledge at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, beginning January 1, 1916. It is further agreed that this subscription shall be void unless the subscription to the Endowment Fund equals $500,000 by December 1, 1915.

Signed _____

At this date pledges to secure the first half million dollars amount to $452,000 and it is believed that the half million will be fully subscribed by December 1, 1915.

The Regents will continue the original plan and in the near future expect that the million dollars will be all subscribed.

In all the history of medicine probably no other incident tells of such definite loyalty and sincerity on the part of the profession for its advancement toward an unselfish ideal of service. By these subscriptions the Fellows have made genuine sacrifice. And the significant fact in this connection is that the entire impetus of the College springs from within its own membership. Necessarily that impetus implies reform. But there is a vast difference between reform preached at men and reform innate in the hearts of men which finds expression at their own initiative. Whatever impetus the College possesses, it originates among the surgeons themselves. It is not an extraneous force or an "uplift" movement. But rather, out of the widely divergent views on many subjects among the Fellows, the aims of the College rise as those time-tried aspirations which are inherently the basis of all that is valuable in the vocation of surgery. The purposes of the College are concerned directly with matters of character and of training, with the betterment of hospitals and of the teaching facilities of medical schools, with laws which relate to medical practice and privilege, and with an unselfish protection of the public from incompetent service; in a word, they embody those ideals which have stood the test of centuries. Upon these the Fellows are united. These are the ideals which each Fellow, single-handed, has endeavored to foster, and the expression of them to-day through the College comes as a sort of mass-consciousness of the whole body of Fellows. The splendid fact is that the Fellows have grasped in an instant the meaning of the College by a process of fusion and they have gladly made sacrifices for its success.

PROGRAM OF ACTIVITY

In all progress toward the fulfilment of the aims of the College the Regents appreciate that public approval is an essential force; and to acquire public approval they realize that straight thinking, time, patience, and endless effort are the telling factors. They realize also that success lies only in the keeping of the fundamental principles for which the College was established clearly in the foreground. In this connection, the following lines of activity are now under consideration,—

1. Since the whole problem of the training of specialists for the practice of surgery is the primary purpose of the College, the Regents propose at an early date to present a clear conception of the College to the undergraduate medical students of this continent. The Regents, further, will ask each senior student of this group who has in mind to specialize in general surgery or any branch of surgery to register with the College. As these students, then, serve later as internes and as surgical assistants, they will be requested to report these facts to the College. The College, in turn, will systematically seek information as to the ability and character of such men; and the information thus obtained becomes the basis of admission to Fellowship in the College. In addition to this procedure, the Regents will insist upon the proper keeping of case histories, and they will endeavor to stimulate in these men in training right ideals of medical practice. In this program they ask the active coöperation of the faculties of the medical schools and of all practitioners of medicine.

2. Inasmuch as proper training in surgery is inseparably involved with the conduct and efficiency of hospitals, the College will seek accurate data on all matters which relate to hospitals. From time to time it will publish studies upon hospital problems, the purpose being always to be helpful to the hospitals and to increase public confidence, where it is merited, in these institutions. These publications, further, will inform recent medical graduates as to where they may seek adequate general or special training in surgery. To be concrete, the College will deal with such problems as (a) the proper equipment for medical diagnosis, e.g., well equipped laboratories for chemical, pathological, and X-ray work; (b) the proper forms for case histories and the facilities for keeping these records; (c) the management and the curricula of the nurses training school; (d) the specialization essential in any well organized hospital.

3. The College will ask the faculties of medical schools to consider the advisability of conferring a supplementary degree of proficiency in general surgery and in the various specialties of surgery.

4. The College will issue readable monographs, educational in nature, to the press, to the general public, to hospital trustees, and to the profession of medicine upon subjects of medical procedure and the whole meaning of fitness to practice surgery.

As one comes into wide acquaintance with the Fellows of the College and catches some fair notion of their earnestness, he sees the future of the organization not by means of logic. There is something more subtle and potent than argument. A determined optimism carries a momentum of its own. Without a logical process it seeks concrete expression; and, more than this, it really recreates circumstances through all shifts of weather or play of incident with a certainty not excelled by an utterly rational course. The Fellows of the College, in their widely scattered districts, fuse their consciousness of the organization with a splendid hope in their hearts to advance all that is important and valuable in the profession. This very attitude of mind is the first promise for the future of the College. It is a promise that admits of no defeat. It is a pledge of loyalty to medical patriotism which means loyalty to the public welfare exercised through intellectual sincerity and scientific accuracy. It means a safe-guard to the public, for it indicates where honest and adequate surgery may be found.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION TO FELLOWSHIP

In submitting the following regulations for admission to Fellowship by examination, the Board of Regents is conscious of its trust to the profession of medicine, first, that the regulations shall be administered without favor or prejudice; second, that the regulations shall be effective in their scrutiny. Further, the members of the Board feel that the regulations as outlined below mark a passing stage in the development of the College. It is probable in the near future that, in addition to these requirements, the candidates for Fellowship will be asked to appear personally before an examining board for further verification of fitness.

1. The candidate shall be a graduate of medicine, licensed to practice medicine in his respective state or province, or accepted as a medical officer in the service of his respective country.

2. To be eligible for Fellowship without technical examination the candidate shall be a graduate of a medical school approved by the American College of Surgeons. If the candidate's school of graduation is not accredited by the American College of Surgeons, he may be required to pass a technical examination in one or all subjects of the medical curriculum.

3. The candidate shall give evidence that he has served at least one year as an interne in a creditable hospital and two years as a surgical assistant, or he shall give evidence of an apprenticeship or equivalent value. Special importance is attached to laboratory and research work.

4. The moral and ethical fitness of the candidate shall be determined by the reports of surgeons whose names are submitted by the candidate himself and by such other reports and data as the Credentials Committee and the administration of the College may obtain.

5. The professional activity of the candidate shall be limited to the study, diagnosis, and operative work in general surgery or in special fields of surgery, such as eye, ear, nose, and throat, genito-urinary, orthopedics, and gynecology and obstetrics, as follows: First, if the candidate resides in a city of less than fifty thousand inhabitants, at least fifty per cent of his professional activity shall be limited to the practice of general surgery, or to practice within the special fields of surgery as stated. Second, in cities of over fifty thousand inhabitants, at least eighty per cent of the professional activity of the candidate shall be limited to the practice of general surgery or to practice within the special fields of surgery. In other words, the College desires to admit to its Fellowship only those who are primarily specialists in surgery, and the minimum proportion of specialization which is acceptable may vary according to the size of the city in which the candidate resides.

6. The candidate shall make formal application for Fellowship, giving specific information upon the following subjects,—

Preliminary and medical education

Hospital service

Assistantship as a surgeon

Teaching positions (past and present)

Post-graduate work

Research and experimental work

Department of special practice and years devoted to same Specialization

Medical societies of which applicant is a member

Writings, publications, and research.

Blank forms for the purpose of making application may be had, upon request, from the General Secretary of the College.

7. In making application for Fellowship the candidate shall sign a declaration which reads as follows,—

“I hereby promise upon my honor as a gentleman that I will not, so long as I am a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, practice division of fees in any form; neither by collecting fees for others referring patients to me; nor by permitting them to collect my fees for me; nor will I make joint fees with physicians or surgeons referring patients to me for operation or consultation; neither will I in any way, directly or indirectly, compensate any one referring patients to me; nor will I utilize any man as an assistant as a subterfuge for this purpose.”

8. The Regents of the College reserve the right to alter from time to time regulations respecting the admission of Fellows to the College as they may think proper.

9. As evidence of his qualifications in the art and technique of surgery, the candidate is requested to submit the histories or records of fifty consecutive major operations performed by himself after the date of application for Fellowship.

The College has prepared a series of history-forms which indicate, in a general manner, first, the data desired in so far as they are applicable to each case, and, second, the form within reasonable limits in which these data should be submitted. These blank forms may be had, upon request, from the General Secretary of the College. The College does not supply these forms for actual record-keeping.

The original hospital records, it is assumed, may, upon request, be reviewed for verification with the records submitted. The name of the patient, however, need not be given in any record. The hospital number of each case should be given.

10. In addition to the complete histories of fifty consecutive major operations, as stated in the preceding paragraphs, the candidate is asked to submit in brief abstract a report of at least fifty other major operations in which he has acted as an assistant or which he has performed himself.

APPLICATION FOR FELLOWSHIP

The application blanks are uniform and each candidate for Fellowship is requested to file an application blank filled out in detail and signed. The blank contains the following questions,—

Name. Address. Place and date of birth.

What school, academy, college or university did you attend? Date of graduation? Degrees?

What medical college or colleges did you attend? Date of graduation? Degrees?

In what hospitals have you been an interne, resident or assistant? From——to——?

In what hospitals have you been a staff member and in what capacity?

In what teaching capacity have you been active?

What other appointments have you had?

What post-graduate studies have you pursued in America and where?

What post-graduate studies have you pursued abroad and where?

What official positions have you held?

How many years in special practice and where?

What department of special practice?

What percentage of your work is surgical?

What research or experimental work have you done?

Of what medical societies are you a member?

Give the names of five prominent surgeons as references, at least three of whom are from your own state.

Give the names of books and contributions to medical and surgical literature of which you are the author, with date and place of publication.

The application papers contain a separate declaration against the practice of fee-splitting. This is in the nature of a personal pledge, and each applicant is requested to attach his signature to it and file it with his papers. This declaration is as follows,—

I hereby promise upon my honor as a gentleman that I will not, so long as I am a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, practice division of fees in any form; neither by collecting fees for others referring patients to me; nor by permitting them to collect my fees for me; nor will I make joint fees with physicians or surgeons referring patients to me for operation or consultation; neither will I in any way, directly or indirectly, compensate any one referring patients to me; nor will I utilize any man as an assistant as a subterfuge for this purpose.

While the by-laws require that an applicant give three endorsers, the Committee on Credentials now recommends that five names be given, three of which should be from the applicant's own state. The reference blank contains the following information questions,—

Name. Address. College and date of graduation.

1. How long have you known the applicant?
2. What is his surgical standing in the profession?
3. What is his experience as a surgeon?
4. How extensively does he specialize?
5. What is his moral standing in his community?
6. What is his ethical standing?
7. Do you believe he will carry out in practice the spirit of the enclosed declaration?

8. Do you believe from your knowledge of the applicant's life that we can accept in good faith his fulfilment of the principles involved in the enclosed declaration if signed by him?

9. Remarks.

11. Surgeons widely recognized by the profession as leaders of progress and exponents of finished technique, by a unanimous vote of the Board of Regents may be admitted to Fellowship on recommendation of the Committee on Examination.

CONVOCATIONS

The first Convocation was held in Chicago on November 13, 1913. The Fellowship address was delivered by Sir Rickman J. Godlee, Bart., President of the Royal College of Surgeons of England. Fellowships were conferred upon 1059 candidates and Honorary Fellowships upon the following: Sir Rickman J. Godlee, Bart., of London, England, W. W. Keen of Philadelphia, William S. Halsted of Baltimore, J. Collins Warren of Boston, and Robert F. Weir of New York.

At this time Sir Rickman presented to the College greetings from the Royal College of Surgeons of England as follows,—

"We, the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, have heard with much interest of the approaching inauguration of the American College of Surgeons. We hereby convey to it our hearty good wishes, and express the hope that it may have a successful career and fill a position beneficial alike to the Profession and to the Community.

"We cannot forget the important advances in the Science and Art of Surgery achieved by many distinguished Surgeons in the Continent of America during the past, and are proud to have enrolled upon our list of Honorary Fellows the names of some of the most active workers in these fields at the present day.

"In accepting the invitation for our President to take a part in the opening Ceremony we desire to show that we appreciate the intention of the American College to strengthen the bonds that already unite the Medical Profession amongst English-speaking peoples. It is a sentiment which always meets with a cordial response in this country, and it is one which this College will endeavour to support by all the means in its power.

"In witness whereof we have caused the Common Seal of the College to be hereunto affixed this 9th day of October, 1913.

President	RICKMAN J. GODLEE
Vice-Presidents	{ G. H. MAKINS
	{ FREDERIC EVE."

At the second Convocation, held in Philadelphia on June 22, 1914 Fellowships were conferred upon 1065 candidates. The Fellowship address was delivered by Dr. James G. Mumford. Honorary Fellowships were conferred upon the following: Edmond Souchon of New Orleans, Francis J. Shepherd of Montreal, and Thomas Addis Emmet of New York.

The third Convocation was held in Washington, D. C., on the evening of November 16, 1914. Fellowships were conferred upon 646 candidates. The Fellowship address was delivered by Dr. Edward H. Bradford, Dean of Harvard University Medical School. Honorary Fellowships were conferred upon Dudley P. Allen of Cleveland, William C. Gorgas of Washington, Lewis Stephen Pilcher of Brooklyn, Sir Thomas George Roddick of Montreal, and J. William White of Philadelphia.

The fourth Convocation was held in Boston on October 29, 1915. Fellowships were conferred upon 484 candidates. The Fellowship address was delivered by President E. J. James of the University of Illinois. Honorary Fellowships were conferred upon David William Cheever of Boston, Wilfred Thomason Grenfell of Labrador, Stephen Smith of New York, and Louis McLane Tiffany of Baltimore.

ACADEMIC ROBE

After due consideration the Board of Regents adopted a distinct Fellowship gown which, in their judgment, will add dignity, uniformity, and distinction to the Convocations of the College. The gown adopted consists of a body of navy blue mohair. A scarlet velvet facing five inches wide extends around the neck and down each side of the front. The cap is of the same material with a scarlet tassel.

JOHN G. BOWMAN.

November 10, 1915.

THE BY-LAWS

I. NAME. The name of the corporation shall be the American College of Surgeons.

II. OBJECT. The object of the College shall be to elevate the standard of surgery, to establish a standard of competency and of character for practitioners of surgery, to provide a method of granting Fellowships in the organization, and to educate the public and the profession to understand that the practice of surgery calls for special training and that the surgeon elected to Fellowship in this College has had such training and is properly qualified to practice surgery.

III. THE COLLEGE. 1. The College shall consist of all members of the corporation. Such members are to be designated as Fellows. The College shall vest the general management of the corporation in a Board of Governors. The Board of Governors shall, in turn, vest the details of the management in a board of trustees to be known as the Board of Regents.

2. The College shall hold an annual meeting on the day and at the place selected for the annual meeting of the Board of Governors.

IV. BOARD OF GOVERNORS. 1. The original Board of Governors shall consist of the surgeons invited by the Organization Committee to serve as Founders of the College, who have qualified as Fellows. The members of this first Board of Governors shall also be known as the Founders of the American College of Surgeons.

2. The original Board of Governors shall be divided by lot into three classes to serve one, two, and three years, respectively. At the annual meeting in 1914, and at the annual meeting in each year thereafter, the Fellows of the College shall elect (in a manner to be determined by the Board of Regents) fifty surgeons from among the Fellows of the College to membership on the Board of Governors, each to serve for a term of three years; thirty of these members are to be elected from a list of nominations, consisting of three members each nominated by the following sixteen surgical associations and societies of North America, and one each from the United States Army and from the United States Navy,—

1. American Surgical Association.
2. Surgical Section of the American Medical Association.
3. Section on Obstetrics, Gynecology and Abdominal Surgery of the American Medical Association.
4. General Surgical Division of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America.
5. Division of Surgical Specialties of the Clinical Congress of Surgeons of North America.
6. American Gynecological Society.
7. Southern Surgical and Gynecological Association.
8. Western Surgical Association.
9. Section on Surgery of the Canadian Medical Association.
10. American Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.
11. American Orthopedic Association.
12. American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons.
13. American Laryngological Association.
14. American Ophthalmological Society.
15. American Otological Society.
16. American Institute of Homeopathy.

Twenty members shall be elected at large to represent surgeons of North America not affiliated with the above societies or associations. In case of failure of any of the above named organizations to make its quota of nominations, or in case of duplication of nominees, the Board of Regents shall nominate members from among the Fellows at large for the vacancies so caused in the list of nominees. The Board of Regents shall in the same manner fill all vacancies in the current membership of the Board of Governors due to death, resignation, or other causes.

3. The Board of Governors shall at its first meeting elect from among its own membership twelve who shall be members of the Board of Regents; this group shall be divided into three classes of four members each, whose terms of office shall expire in one, two, and three years, respectively. As the term of service in each class expires, their successors shall be elected, each for a term of three years, by the Board of Governors in a manner to be determined by the Board of Regents. Not more than three of each class shall be selected from one country. In event of death or resignation of any member of the Board of Regents, his successor shall be elected at the next regular or special meeting of the Board of Governors, but the Board of Regents may appoint a member of the Board of Governors to serve as Regent until this election takes place.

4. The Board of Governors shall meet in executive session annually for the transaction of business, which business shall include the election of members of the Board of Regents and the election of officers as provided in Article IV, Section 3, and other routine business which may be brought before it by the corporation or the Board of Regents. Such meetings shall be called by the General Secretary at the direction of the Board of Regents. Special meetings of the Board of Governors may be called by the General Secretary at any other time at the request of the Board of Regents. Members of the Board of Governors shall be expected to attend other formal meetings and Convocations called by the Board of Regents for the purpose of conferring Fellowships and the transaction of other business.

5. Fifty members of the Board of Governors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

V. OFFICERS. The officers of the College shall be a President of the College, a First Vice President, a Second Vice President, a Director, a General Secretary, and a Treasurer. With the exception of the Director, these officers shall be appointed by the Regents from among their own number, each to serve for a term of one year, or until his successor is elected.

(a) The President of the College shall preside at all regular and special meetings of the College and of the Board of Governors, and at all Convocations for the conferring of Fellowships.

(b) The First Vice President shall preside at all meetings of the College in the absence of the President, and in the event of the death or resignation of the President, shall assume the duties of that officer.

(c) The Second Vice President shall preside at all meetings of the College in the absence of the President and of the First Vice President, and in the event of the death or resignation of these two officers, shall assume the duties of the President.

(d) The Director shall be the chief executive officer of the College. He shall be elected by the Board of Regents and hold office during the pleasure of the Board. Under control of the Board of Regents and of the Executive Committee, he shall have general charge of all matters of administration of the Corporation. He shall prepare and submit to the Board of Regents and to the Executive Committee plans and suggestions for the work of the College. He shall have power to appoint and remove subordinate employees of the College. He shall submit to the Board of Regents, at least thirty days in advance of the annual meeting, a written report of the operations and of the business of the College for the preceding fiscal year, together with his recommendations for the work and for the appropriations of the succeeding fiscal year. He shall attend all meetings of the Executive Committee and of the Board of Regents.

He shall be the legal custodian of all property of the College whose custody is not otherwise provided for. He shall audit all expenditure and disbursement of funds of the College in accordance with the direction of the Board, or of the Executive Committee.

(e) The General Secretary shall keep all records of the Corporation, of the Board of Governors, and of the Board of Regents. He shall mail to the proper addresses all notices of regular and of special meetings of the College, of the Board of Governors, and of the Board of Regents, and shall have a general supervision of the business affairs of the Corporation under the direction of the Board of Regents.

(f) The Treasurer shall receive all funds of the College and disburse the same on checks, signed by him and countersigned by the Director or by the General Secretary. He shall make a report in writing to the Board of Regents at each meeting of that Board of the moneys received and expended, and shall furnish a detailed statement of the financial condition of the College at each annual meeting of the Board of Regents. The Treasurer shall furnish a bond to the Board of Regents for the faithful performance of his trust.

VI. BOARD OF REGENTS. 1. The Board of Regents shall consist of fifteen members as follows: The President of the Corporation, the General Secretary, the Treasurer, and twelve others elected from among the Fellows by the Board of Governors in a manner to be determined by the Board of Regents.

2. The Officers of the Board of Regents shall be a Chairman and a Secretary.

(a) The Chairman of the Board of Regents shall be elected from among the members of the Board of Regents for a term of one year and shall preside at all meetings of the Board. In the event of his death or resignation, the office shall be filled by election at the next meeting of the Board.

(b) The General Secretary of the Corporation shall be the Secretary of the Board of Regents.

3. The duties of the Board of Regents shall be those ordinarily performed by a governing board, namely: To transact all detail business devolving upon the Board of Governors in carrying out the object of the organization; to regulate and to conserve the property interests of the College; to adopt rules and regulations for the admission of Fellows; to fix initial fees and annual dues of Fellowship; to create, appoint, and direct all standing committees; to elect Fellows to the College; to call all meetings of the Corporation not already provided for; to arrange Convocations or other meetings for the conferring of Fellowships; to transact all business not otherwise provided for that may pertain to the organization.

4. Eight members of the Board of Regents shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

5. Regular meetings of the Board of Regents shall occur once in twelve months at the call of the General Secretary. Special meetings may be convened at any time by the General Secretary, or on a request to him made in writing and signed by thirty members of the Board of Governors, or by eight members of the Board of Regents.

VII. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. 1. There shall be an Executive Committee, consisting, first, of the President of the College, of the General Secretary, and of the Treasurer; and, second, of five other Regents elected by the Board of Regents by ballot for a term of three years, who shall be eligible for reëlection, provided, however, that, of the members of the Committee first elected by the Board of Regents after the adoption of these by-laws, two shall serve for one year, two for two years, and one for three years, and such members of the Committee shall determine their respective term by lot. Should the term of service, however, of any member of the Executive Committee terminate as a member of the Board of Regents, his term of service upon the Executive Committee also thereby terminates.

2. At least thirty days prior to the annual meeting of the Board of Regents, a Nominating Committee, consisting of the Chairman of the Board and of two Regents appointed by him, shall send notices by mail to all members of the Board of the vacancies in the Executive Committee to be filled at the ensuing annual meeting, and shall invite suggestions of names of Regents to be nominated as members of the Executive Committee. The nomination of this Committee shall be voted upon by the Board of Regents.

3. During the intervals between the meetings of the Board, the Executive Committee shall exercise all the powers of the Board of Regents in the management and direction of the business and the conduct of the affairs of the Corporation, except that it shall not have power to elect Fellows, or to regulate initial fees or annual dues of Fellowship. It shall have supervision of the property of the Corporation, and shall determine the investment of its funds.

(a) The Executive Committee shall direct the manner in which the books and accounts of the Corporation shall be kept, and shall cause to be examined from time to time the accounts and vouchers of the Treasurer for moneys received and paid out by him. It shall keep a record of its proceedings and report the same to the Board of Regents at the next succeeding meeting for its approval.

(b) The Executive Committee may, in its discretion, appoint such sub-committees as it may deem necessary or desirable for the proper transaction of the business of the Corporation.

(c) Whenever any vacancy shall occur in the Executive Committee, or in any office of the Corporation, by death, resignation or otherwise, it shall be filled by appointment by the Executive Committee for the remainder of the current corporate year.

(d) The Executive Committee may adopt rules and regulations for the conduct of its meetings and the management of the affairs of the Corporation, not inconsistent with the laws of the state of the incorporation of the College, and with the by-laws of the College.

(e) The Executive Committee may hold its meetings at such place or places as it may from time to time determine. A majority of the Executive Committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

VIII. FELLOWS. 1. The Fellows of the College shall be graduates in medicine who are licensed to practice medicine in their respective states and provinces, or medical officers of the federal services who have made an application for Fellowship (such application being endorsed by three Fellows of the College, one of whom shall be a member of the Board of Governors), who meet the qualification requirements that shall from time to time be established by the Board of Regents, and who shall be elected to Fellowship by the Board of Regents on recommendation of the Committee on Credentials, and who shall have signed the roll.

2. Each individual elected to Fellowship in the College shall be designated as a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and shall be authorized and encouraged to use the letters F. A. C. S. after his name on professional cards, in professional directories, and in articles published in surgical literature.

IX. PUBLICATIONS. The Board of Regents shall issue each year a directory containing the names and addresses of the Fellows of the American College of Surgeons arranged by states, provinces, and colonies.

X. Any Fellow of the College may be expelled for conduct which, in the opinion of the Board of Regents, is derogatory to the dignity of the College or inconsistent with its purposes. Such expulsion must be voted by a majority vote of the whole Board of Regents at any meeting, at which meeting the Fellow against whom charges are made shall be invited to be present, and may appear or may be represented, in a manner to be determined by the Board of Regents.

XI. These by-laws may be amended by a majority vote of those present at any regular or special meeting of the Board of Governors, or at a meeting called for the purpose on request made in writing by a hundred members of the Corporation, provided that such proposed amendments are included in the call of the meeting at which such action is contemplated.

INCORPORATION

STATE OF ILLINOIS

Department of State

CORNELIUS J. DOYLE, Secretary of State

To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come, Greeting:

WHEREAS, a CERTIFICATE, duly signed and acknowledged has been filed in the Office of the Secretary of State, on the 25th day of November, A. D. 1912, for the organization of the under and in accordance with the provisions of "AN ACT CONCERNING CORPORATIONS" approved April 18, 1872, and in force July 1, 1872, and all acts amendatory thereof, a copy of which certificate is hereto attached;

Now Therefore, I, CORNELIUS J. DOYLE, Secretary of State, of the State of Illinois, by virtue of the powers and duties vested in me by law, do hereby certify that the said
